Measure-Officers Re-Elected

Officers of the Rush County Farmers' association were re-elected for another year, at the annual meeting of the association, held in this city Tuesday at the court house. The officers who will succeed themselves are Fred Bell, president; Harry A. McMillin, vice-president; H. L. Beall, secretary and J. W. Peters, treasurer.

It was decided at the morning session that the new officers would be voted on by ballot instead of voting on the report of a nominating committee.

When nominations were placed in order, there were several mentioned for the various offices, but the delegates finally sifted the votes down to the old officers, who were then swept into office again, almost unanimously.

The meeting here was one of the best annual affairs ever held, and the attendance was unusually large. The entire day was given over to business, and no entertainment was furnished, as has been the custom in previous years.

In resolutions adopted shortly before adjournment, the county association went on record in favor of the abolishment of the county highway superintendents office, the repeal of the absent voters law, repeal of the law providing for tax free securities, urged the utmost economy in government and commended the county agent, the county assessors and other agencies who have contributed to the welfare of the farmers and the county as a whole. The resolutions follow:

We the Rush County Farmers Association, in annual meeting assembled, hereby renew our faith in our profession and belief in organization of farmers. This organization has done more to promote the happiness and prosperity of this county than any other known organization.

We commend the officers of this association for their faithful service in behalf of this organization. The services rendered have been of great benefit to all farmers whether members of this organization or not. No words are too strong to express our appreciation.

1—Resolved that we extend our most earnest thanks to Donald D. Ball, our county agricultural agent,

CHILD PROVIDES A CLEW

Billy Huffstickle, Found with Bodies of Mr. and Mrs. Wm Shaffer, Says
Woman Was in House

(By United Press)

Newcastle, Ind., Dec. 13.—Working upon the clew given by three-year-old Billy Huffstickle, that a woman was in the house when Mr. and Mrs. Will Shaffer were slain with a hatchet, the sheriff here today said the arrest of two women in connection with the case was imminent.

As the result of the anticipated arrest, the sheriff said more important clews will be involved leading to the murderer who killed the couple, to obtain $3,000 worth of jewels and some money in the Shaffer home. Little Billy, a nephew of Mrs. Shaffer, was in the death house when the crime was committed some time last Thursday.

Billy was the only eye witness. Exhausted from hunger and thirst suffering from cold, the little nephew of the murdered woman was unable to talk coherently of what happened.

The child told authorities the double murder was committed Monday night, but the coroner declared the condition of the skin and other indications were conclusive that the Shaffers had been dead several days.

They were last seen a week ago. It is thought Billy was shut in the death house since last Thursday with the corpse of Mrs. Shaffer, his clothing stained with blood, subsisting.

NICHOLSON FINED ON
2 CHARGES BY MAYORFormer Policeman Found Guilty in Assault and Battery Case and Pleads Guilty of Profanity

THREE OTHERS DISMISSED

Frank Nicholson was fined on two charges by Mayor Walter R. Thomas in police court today and three other charges filed against him in connection with an attack he is alleged to have made on Alonzo Flowers, colored, Friday evening, November 24, were dismissed.

Nicholson fought the assault and battery case before Mayor Thomas this morning, asserting that a trap was laid to get him into trouble. At the time of the escapade, Nicholson admitted that he made a mistake and struck Alonzo Flowers instead of Cassius, a brother of Alonzo, because Cassius had hit him when his back was turned. The brothers resemble one another, which resulted in him attacking the wrong one.

Nicholson was fined $1 and costs on assault and battery charge, and when he pleaded guilty to profanity this afternoon, he was fined $5 and costs on that charge and the remaining three—intoxication and two for carrying concealed weapons were dismissed. The profanity charge was filed by Mrs. Cassius Flowers, who said Nicholson swore at her when he came to their home looking for her husband.

DEMANDS $10,000
IN ALIENATION SUITH. Holmes Files Complaint Against Albert Buell, Alleging Defendant
Won His Wife's Affections

LIVED ON THE BUELL FARM

Plaintiff Charges He Was Ordered
Away From Home By Wife, Who Told Him She Preferred Buell

Three new law suits were placed on file today in the circuit court, one being a complaint for alienation of affections, with the demand for $10,000, one being a damage suit, and the third a complaint for divorce.

In the complaint for alienation, Harley D. Holmes is plaintiff and Albert Buell, a farmer of this county is defendant.

The plaintiff alleges that he and Catherine Gant were married, and now have a child eleven years old, and that up until February 7, 1919, their married life was peaceful and that they enjoyed each other's company.

On the above date, the defendant caused the plaintiff and his wife to move from their home in Connersville to his farm in Rush county, where they were to manage the farm and keep house for the defendant.

The charge in the complaint is that the defendant paid undue attention to the plaintiff's wife, and bestowed acts of kindness upon her, and caused her affections for her husband to diminish.

The complaint alleges that on April 8, 1919, the plaintiff was ordered to leave the farm by his wife, who told him that she did not care for him any more, and that she intended to remain with Buell, who was her choice.

Holmes alleges that he left his wife and has been living with his parents in Metamora, and that because he was jilted it caused him mental pain and that he lost the affections of his wife, which he values at $10,000, and which is his demand.

Since their separation, the plaintiff alleges that he has learned that the defendant and Mrs. Holmes have remained at the farm home, and have spent the night away from home on several occasions and pretended that they were married.

The Indiana Refining Company is plaintiff in a suit against Eph Peck of this county, the complaint being for damages as the result of an automobile collision October 6, 1920. The plaintiff alleges that a gasoline truck owned by the plaintiff was struck by the defendant's automobile on a road 13 miles southeast of Shelbyville, and was damaged.

The plaintiff alleges that the defendant was to blame for the accident at the cross roads, and that the large oil and gasoline truck was turned over, and the damage estimated at $400.

Monroe D. Jackson, a barber of this city, is plaintiff in a suit for divorce from Blanche M. Jackson, in which he charges that his wife failed to cook his meals, and would leave home on an average of three times a week. He says that she was complaining, quarreling and nagging at the plaintiff throughout five years of their married life, and that she had not permitted him to kiss her more than a dozen times.

They were married May 26, 1913, and separated August 15, 1922, and one child was born, the custody of which he is willing for her to have.

ANNIVERSARY IS OBSERVED

Council Here Present at Banquet

More than one hundred enjoyed the annual banquet of the Rushville Knights of Columbus, Monday night, celebrating the anniversary of the nineteenth anniversary of the establishment of a council in Rushville. A. H. Schriebe presided as toastmaster and responses were made by Robert E. Mansfield, John A. Titsworth and others, among them W. H. Fox, a man high in the councils of the order, who instituted the Rushville council. He recalled the establishment of the order in Rushville in a brief speech.

New System of Issuing Automobile
License Plates Expected to Prove Convenient to Owners

The Rushville branch of the Hoosier State Automobile Association, located at the Triangle garage, in charge of Charley Caldwell began to distribute 1923 auto license plates from the local office Tuesday, and on the opening day 60 passenger car owners and 18 truck owners in this county were supplied.

This is the first time that the plan has been tried out in Rush county, and it will no doubt prove to be a good thing for automobile owners, as the plates can be supplied in a few minutes by presenting the certificate of title, or the blanks properly filled out, to the office in this city.

Mr. Caldwell, who received the county appointment last summer, was supplied sometime ago with 4,000 sets of numbers for passenger cars, and 400 sets for trucks, but they were not to be put on the market until December 12.

Offices similar to the one established in Rushville, were also placed in 91 cities and towns in the state, and the usual congestion at Indianapolis will be greatly relieved in giving out the plates. H. D. McClelland, manager of the state department, has established these offices in local offices of the Hoosier State Automobile Association.

According to Mr. McClelland, 320,000 sets of license plates have been distributed throughout Indiana for the convenience of the public. Local branches of the Hoosier State Automobile Association, automobile dealers and accessories stores have been supplied with the 1923 licenses, it was said.

There are four stations in Lake county where the plates may be obtained, Mr. McClelland said. In counties like Brown and Ohio, however, where there are few resident automobile owners, it was said no licenses had been placed on sale.

In connection with the placing on sale of the licenses, Mr. McClelland called attention to the law which provides that no plates shall be issued unless certificates of title are shown. Every person seeking a 1923 license must show a certificate of title before he will be accommodated, it was said.

There will be more drivers of pleasure automobiles and trucks in 1923 than in the year just closing, in the opinion of Mr. McClelland. He said that in 1922 to date, approximately 415,000 pleasure cars were in use in the state, while there were 57,200 trucks. In 1921, he said, there were 357,025 pleasure cars licensed in Indiana, and 43,317 trucks.

The 1922 licenses may be used until Feb. 15, 1923, it has been announced.

A delegation of approximately twenty-five Kiwanians went to Knightstown Tuesday evening for the charter-presentation meeting of the club which was recently organized there. Seven other Indiana clubs, in addition to Rushville, were represented.

The charter was presented by John N. Bromert of Indianapolis, the district governor, at a banquet held at the Knightstown gymnasium. Dr. Burton Myers of Bloomington, district governor-elect, was present and spoke briefly. Other clubs represented besides Rushville and Knightstown were Newcastle, Muncie, Greentown, Anderson, Connersville and Bloomington.

The wrinkles showed on Santa's face today. The deep furrows that have crept into his usually happy face, because he thought his friends had forsaken him, were converted into smiles today as he contemplated what he could do for the little folks of Rushville with money that the Good Fellows poured into his lap today through the Daily Republican-Salvation Army Christmas fund.

It was a regular shower, once they got started. Santa knew all the time that they had not deserted him, but at the same time he allowed himself to worry just a bit because the time was growing so near when he would have to make his annual tour.

Santa was encouraged by the wonderful showing not alone for what it will buy for the little unfortunates, but for the additional reason that it will stimulate procrastinators to action. The happy old man of the North Pole has never lost faith in his friends and he is well aware that there are plenty of others who are anxious to give but have just neglected to do it.

Many of Kris Kringle's friends of former years joined the other Good Fellows today. Two little girls who never fail to remember the less fortunate one are numbering among today's contributors and their action may stimulate other children to invest some of their savings in good cheer for others.

Mayor Walter R. Thomas also joined the crowd of cheer-spreaders. The Eagles lodge, Aerie No. 2036, a regular contributor to the fund, renewed its fealty to the cause by sending in a contribution. Members of the Rotary club made up a fund which helped to swell the total for today.

ADMITS LABOR IS
BACK OF CHARGESSamuel Gompers President of A. F.
L. Makes Frank Admissions In
Daugherty Impeachment Case

INTERESTED IN 3 PHASES

Labor Leader, However, Denies Federation Is Moving Behind Resolution in Congress

Washington, Dec. 13.—Frank admissions that the full powers of the American Federation of Labor has been thrown into the attempt to impeach Attorney General Daugherty was made before the house judiciary committee today by Samuel Gompers, president of the federation.

The grizzly labor chiefton said the American Federation of Labor is interested in "three phases of the impeachment proceedings." He was not permitted to say what these phases were.

Former Congressman Paul Houland of Cleveland, counsel for Daugherty, attempted to get Gompers to say that the labor federation was the moving spirit behind the impeachment resolution introduced last September by Representative Keller, republican, Minnesota.

"You are off on the wrong foot," said Gompers. "I did not know the impeachment had been launched until I read of it in the newspapers."

Gompers was on the stand relating how he protested to Attorney General Daugherty in 1921 against the appointment of William J. Burns as head of the federal bureau of investigation.

Burns is under examination in connection with Keller's charge that Daugherty appointed unworthy men to high offices.

Gompers admitted under examination that he had fought Burns for a year.

"Mr. Burns was one of the investigators in the case of McNamara Brothers in California," said Houland.

"He was", replied Gompers. "You were interested in the aiding of these men," said Houland.

"I believe in the men I know," declared Gompers, "but my only interest was in seeing that the men got a fair trial."

Wickersham is the "trump card" of Representative Keller, who charges that in the appointment of William J. Burns, chief of the bureau of investigation, Daugherty "knowingly and wilfully" appointed a man "unfit" to hold a position of trust.

Wickersham's letter to former President Taft in 1912 denouncing Burns for alleged "jury fixing" in an Oregon land fraud case, was read before the house judiciary committee yesterday. Today the former attorney general will be asked to give personal testimony in the matter.

Gompers was called by Representative Keller to testify that he called

COLDEST WEATHER OF
WINTER DURING NIGHTMercury Drops to Seven Degrees

WARMER WEATHER IS COMING

The coldest temperature of the winter was recorded in Rush county Tuesday night, according to the thermometer at Mauzy, in charge of Elwood Kirkwood, which showed that the coldest reached in the night was 7 degrees above zero.

The weather bureau yesterday sent out word that the mercury would drop to near zero, or a few degrees below, and the predictions ran true to form.

At nine o'clock this morning the mercury rose to 13 degrees above zero, and moderating weather was believed to be approaching. The overhanging clouds, according to Mr. Kirkwood, indicated that changes were taking place in the higher regions, and would bring warmer weather.

G. O. P. OF ILLINOIS LINING UP FOR 1924

Bitter Fight Predicted Between Wets
And Drys Over Privilege of Naming Speaker of House

DRY LEADER TWO YEARS AGO

(By United Press)

Springfield, Dec. 13.—Rumblings of a bitter fight between the "wets" and "drys", over the privilege of naming the speaker of the lower house of the Illinois General Assembly, which convenes here early in January, already are being heard. The "drys," aided by the state administration forces, elected a "dry" speaker two years ago. The Illinois Anti-Saloon league has denied it had an understanding with the state administration on the speakership and on certain legislation, but the "wets" insist such an agreement was carried out.

At the November elections the "wets" gained considerable strength and say they have enough votes to name a speaker regardless of any combination between the Anti-Saloon League and the State administration.

Less talk is heard among prominent Republicans of the state these days about impeachment of Governor Len Small for alleged misuse of state funds while he was state treasurer. The strength developed by the Democrats in the November elections has convinced the state G. O. P. leaders that another bitter internal quarrel, such as an impeachment certainly would arouse would endanger the Republican state ticket two years hence and might swing Illinois into the Democratic column nationally.

Lafayette, Ind., Dec. 13—There is a widespread impression that climbing bittersweet, one of the most popular of winter house decorations, is one of the plants that harbor the tomato disease known as mosaic and should be destroyed. The climbing bittersweet is harmless in this respect, however, according to A. A. Hansen of the Purdue University Agricultural Extension department.

The confusion is due to the fact that the true bittersweet or nightshade, a plant with lobed leaves and purple to lilac tomato like flowers is the weed that carried mosaic. Climbing bittersweet, the harmless plant, is a very harmless species that is highly prized on account of the decorative fruit cluster of red berries. When picked before the shell opens, and placed in a warm room, the outer shells of the fruit open, thereby exposing the red-colored berries which retain their attractiveness throughout the winter. Climbing bittersweet is a winter decorative plant and there is no reason for destroying it since there is no evidence that the species harbors mosaic or any other destructive plant disease.

for his untiring and successful fight in driving the so called "Dr" Nolan from our county and thus saving thousands of dollars to our associates. Our county agent risked prosecution and punishment for our protection, and we congratulate him on his success in driving this humbug from the county. Our thanks are also due our county agent for his efforts in securing pure seed and stock, and in the eradication of the common barberry which has proved so harmful to the wheat.

3—We extend our thanks to all of the newspapers of the county for their more than generous contribution of space in their columns for the publication of farm news and their espousal of the cause of the farmer; and we are especially grateful to the Rushville Republican for its publication of a farm supplement containing much valuable information for the farmer.

ting on pie and jelly during his imprisonment and drinking some water left in a bucket on the kitchen table. Shaffer's mutilated body was found in the corn crib nearby by neighbors who discovered the crime.

Ben Brookshire, a farm hand employed by Shaffer was held for investigation. He had not been seen about the place for a few days and Shaffer had said he was going to discharge the youth.

Several diamond rings owned by Mrs. Shaffer were reported missing. The theory is that the robber lay in wait for Shaffer and crushed his skull as he drove in their farm garage, slaying Mrs. Shaffer in the same manner and escaping in the automobile.

Little Billy was found lying in the bed beside the corpse of Mrs. Shaffer. He was sleeping and was cuddled up to the dead woman trying to draw warmth from her body.

On the other side was a little poodle dog which barked defiance as the farmers tried to rescue the boy from his imprisonment.

A survey of the house showed nothing to eat but some crumbs of a pie crust and smearings of jelly, with a few drops of water still in the bucket from which both the child and the dog drank. There was no evidence of a struggle, a revolver still undischarged lying under Mrs. Shaffer's pillow.

Little Billy was taken home to his parents in Muncie, while county authorities questioned the farm hand.

The labor chief's appearance may be the signal for an explosion in the judiciary committee. Regarding the labor federation as the "real force" behind the impeachment, several Republican members, including Yates, of Illinois and Graham, of Pennsylvania have served notice that they will insist that Gompers testimony be confined strictly to legal lines.

"Gompers probably will attempt to make a political speech" declared Representative Yates "and if he does I for one, will not stand for it."

Chairman McCord of the interstate commerce commission, Thomas Stevenson and Oscar H. Horne, labor union attorneys of Cleveland also have been called as witnesses for today. WARMER WEATHER IN WAKE OF COLD

Worst of Cold Snap Over and Higher Temperatures Prevailing in East Are Moving Fast

Fifty Families Flee in Zero Weather When Fire Destroys Chicago Apartment House

(By United Press)

Coldest weather of the winter gripped the eastern and central states today.

The worst of the cold snap is over in states west of Indiana, it was forecast. Warmer weather was creeping up out of the southwest.

Fuel supplies were adequate in most localities. New York, where the threatened coal famine has been most menacing, was burning mixed anthracite and soft coal; and no actual suffering was reported.

Chicago, Dec. 13.—Fifty families, scantily clad were forced to flee from their homes in zero weather today when fire destroyed a four story apartment here.

One woman, Mrs. Hula Smith was reported missing. The fire discovered by a taxi-cab driver who dashed into the building and pounded on apartment doors.

Clad only in night clothes many of the men, women and children fled to the streets swept by a biting wind with the temperature near zero.

Alice Carlin, 10, who was left in the building was rescued by firemen. Damage was estimated at $75,000.

Indianapolis, Dec. 13.—A temperature of 11 degrees above zero was recorded here at 4 a. m. today, the coldest weather of the year.

Columbus, Ohio, Dec. 13.—The mercury stood at 10 above zero in Ohio today, a new low for the winter.

Springfield, Ill., Dec. 13.—The mercury dropped to 13 above zero here last night.

St. Louis, Mo., Dec. 13.—St. Louis shivered its way to work this morning with the mercury hovering around 15 above zero, the lowest reading recorded this winter.

Chicago, Dec. 13.—The cold wave continued to hold Chicago in its grip today. The lowest temperature was 8 above zero. Weather predictions were for slightly warmer and unsettled weather Thursday.

Kansas City, Mo., Dec. 13.—Severe cold weather was creeping out of the southwest today. Temperatures were slowly rising in Missouri, Kansas and Oklahoma after 24 hours of near zero weather.

Milwaukee, Dec. 13.—Near zero weather continued here today with the thermometer registering three above at 6 a. m. A brisk northwest wind added to the discomfort.

Detroit, Dec. 13.—It was 8 degrees above zero here early today. A heavy snow swept by high winds accompanied the chill.

New York, Dec. 13.—New York's thermometers registered 21 degrees at 9 a. m. today, a drop of 13 since 8 a. m. Monday. A sharp wind intensified the cold. Coal yards were swamped with orders.

Charleston, W. Va., Dec. 13.—W. Virginia mercury stood at 15 above zero early today.

Denver, Colo., Dec. 13.—The cold wave apparently had spent its strength in this section of the Rocky Mountain region today although low temperatures were reported from several mountain towns. The mercury was around the 30 mark this morning.

Omaha, Neb., Dec. 13.—After a plunge below the zero mark yesterday the mercury this morning had climbed to 13 above with prospects of still warmer weather.

Boise, Idaho, Dec. 13.—The first real snow of the winter fell last night and two inches covered the ground this morning.

Des Moines, Ia., Dec. 13.—After sub-zero weather, the thermometer was slowly climbing today with predictions of still warmer weather.

Kerr characterized specific acts of violence and also acts of oppression and challenge.

House Committee Would Call Meeting Of Armament Limitation Body

Washington, Dec. 13.—President Harding today was asked by the house appropriation committee to call a meeting of the naval armament limitation committee in hope that an agreement may be reached among the world powers for limitation of auxiliary naval vessels of less than 10,000 tons.

The report was contained in the naval appropriation bill reported to the house today and the approval of the committee will be asked on the bill.

The same powers who signed the naval limitation treaty of the Washington conference, under which the ten-year naval holiday in capital ship construction was introduced, will be invited to meet the committee in the conference. These nations were United States, Great Britain, France, Italy and Japan.

DO GOOD TO ALL MEN: —

Let us not be weary in well doing: for in due season we shall reap, if we faint not. As we have therefore opportunity, let us do good unto all men, especially unto them who are in the household of faith.—Galatians 6: 9, 10.

Making Christmas Fireproof

The season of the year when the little folks look forward to the lighted Christmas tree and the coming of Santa Claus and good cheer, is fast approaching. Not with the idea of dashing the hopes of the youngsters but with the thought of saving lives, the state fire marshal, as is his custom, comes forward with the usual warning about the dangers that lurk in the Christmas decorations—dangers that may change the most festive season of the year into one of tragedy. The highly inflammable evergreen trees and decorations or the cotton beard of the thinly disguised Santa Claus frequently ignite from a lighted candle or match and serious results ensue.

To guard against catastrophe to mar the holiday season, this official calls attention to certain safeguards that should be observed. In the first place, he says, the tree should be set up securely so that it will not easily topple over and it should be located several feet away from any heating or lighting fixture. Metal tinsel with flake asbestos and powdered mica make excellent materials for snow effects and will not burn. Cotton and paper, on the other hand, are highly dangerous. The tree should never be illuminated with candles. There is some danger from the widely sold colored electric light assemblies due to insufficient insulation and other causes, but the hazard is small beside that of the lighted candle.

On one recent occasion a woman living in a New York apartment climbed upon a chair to light the candles on a large Christmas tree in order to entertain her little daughter and a neighbor's child. While reaching for a candle at the top of the tree, she accidentally touched her lighted match to a colored paper chain, which blazed up and ignited other decorations. The woman tried to snatch some of the burning papers off the branches, but lost her balance and fell against the tree, pushing it over on the floor. When she regained her feet her dress was on fire and she ran screaming, out into the hall of the apartment house, fanning the flames until she became a living torch. Aid came too late and she succumbed to the flames.

Ornaments should be of metal and not of paper or pyroxylin plastic, which is commonly known as celluloid, pyralin, French ivory and by other trade names. Pyroxylin plastic is extremely inflammable and will ignite at a comparatively low temperature.

Smokers should exercise great care with their matches and smoking materials, and parents should see that all matches are kept in a metal or china containers out of reach of the youngsters, the fire marshal advises.

Toys involving the use of alcohol, gasoline or kerosene should be avoided and low priced electrical playthings should be viewed with suspicion since they often are insecurely wired and flimsily constructed.

FALMOUTH WILL GET A TOURNEY

Rush County Town in List Announced As Sectional Center For Independent Basketball Meet

312 TEAMS HAVE ENTERED

Twenty-Four Sectionals Have Been Arranged To Take Care Of Fifth Annual State Tourney

Plans are all made, sectional tournaments arranged, and in fact everything is ready for the Fifth Annual Amateur Independent Basketball Championship when again the Hoosier champion will be decided in a "championship way".

Wayne Emmelmann of Indianapolis, who is at the head of the organization, predicts a great year for the Association. Last season 312 teams participated in the great Independent classic and it is expected that the number will reach above the four hundred mark this year.

Twenty-four sectional tournaments will be held over the State and winners of these sectional meets will play at Indianapolis on Feb. 22nd, 23rd, and 24th, to decide the title. The towns which have been awarded sectional meets are Angola, Ft. Wayne, Warren, Sweetser, Mexico, Montpelier, Plymouth, Idaville, Clinton, Colfax, Indianapolis, Lawrence, Cloverdale, Monrovia, Knights-town, Falmouth, Greensburg, Columbus, Lyons, Freetown, Bicknell, Aurora, Evansville and Orleans.

Last year some of the sectional meets over the state were overcrowded and the association this season will limit the amount of entries for each district. The first teams to enter will be the first awarded places in the district meets.

The Indiana Amateur Independent Basketball Association is the largest organization of its kind in the country. The project has proven itself very popular because it has given the ex-high school player a honor to fight for, the same as when he was a member of a school team. The class of play in the organization is of the highest class and is also of the cleanest type. The spirit of "fight hard-but fight clean" has been asked of the teams by Emmelmann, and has been responded by great success.

The first year of the Association twenty teams participated and the title was won by the Young Mens Hebrew Association of Indianapolis. The second year Anderson Y. M. C. A. were victors and eighty-two teams played in the championship. The third year of the organization it showed a vast increase, two hundred and twenty-two teams registered and the title won by Trafalgar, a town of less than five hundred population. Last season the Lizton Team representing a town of less than three hundred, carried home the "baccos" above the other three hundred and eleven entries.

Entry blanks are now ready for the teams and may be secured by writing Wayne Emmelmann, 215 W. Washington St., Indianapolis.

Funny Things in B. B. Records

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Sports Editor)

New York, Dec. 13—Only four pitchers in the National League pitched better ball last season than Senor Adolfo Laque, the Cuban hurler of the Cincinnati Reds. At the same time, only three pitchers pitched worse ball.

Sounds rather contradictory, but it remains a fact under the system of giving the pitchers a double rating.

In average runs allowed per game, which is perhaps the real way to judge ability, Laque was fifth with an average of only 3.31 runs a game.

But the Senor won only 13 games and lost 23, which from the old games won and lost system, made him twenty-third on the list with an average of .361.

Hard luck, it might be called for the Senor. He is one of several fine pitchers who have never taken the spotlight because no teams seem able to get runs for them.

Johnny Couch is a good example of the contrary. Couch is a young teammate of Laque's. He won sixteen out of twenty-five games and finished third on the list. But he was nineteenth on the list in allowing runs.

Ted Kid Lewis, European middle-weight champion, successfully defended his title recently by winning a twenty-round decision from Rol and Todd.

"Except for Lewis' holding and carelessness once or twice with his head, it was a clean, hard-fought contest," one of the London papers said in discussing the bout. "The result was a sore disappointment to Todd, but it might easily have gone the other way if Todd knew how to make more use of himself."

It would seem that it was a clean fight, but dirty, and that Todd would be a good fighter, if he knew how to fight.

Faint echoes are still heard of those brave words that floated up from the southern training camps last spring:

"Arm? Boy, you never saw such an arm! Thirty games for me next year, thirty games!"

Eppa Rixey, the Cincinnati Red hurler, was the only National League pitcher to win twenty-five games and Lefty Cooper, of the Pirates and Dutch Reuther, of the Robins, were the only others to get above the twenty mark.

Jack Britton had a lot of rosy things said about him for sticking in the ring twenty years and holding the welterweight title until he was thirty-nine (officially.)

If any more of those kind words are available they should be cast in the direction of Babe Adams, the great old man of the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Babe went through his eighteenth season in baseball in 1921 at the age of forty-one and he won eight out of nineteen games and he allowed only an average of 3,579 runs a game.

Adams has taken good care of himself and he is well preserved he looks no older than some of the sparsely covered heads that appear on the big college programs as—"Age 20".

Bill Stevenson, former Princeton star and former national quarter-mile champion is now a student at Oxford and he is going just as big over there as he was in his country. In the recent relay events at Oxford, Stevenson's work was the big feature of the victories on Balliol, which finished first in the two-mile, first in the mile and second in the half-mile relays.

TWO GAMES FOR COMING WEEK END

Comparative Scores Give Rushville Edge on Both Connersville and Milroy Who Play Here

FRIDAY NIGHT ARRANGEMENTS

Connersville Fans Will Use West Door and Others East Entrance —150 Seats Reserved

Everything is in readiness for two big basketball games here this week-end, when the Rushville high school will meet Connersville Friday and Milroy high school on Saturday night, both games to be played in the Graham Annex gymnasium.

Coach Jones has been putting the Scarlet aggregation through some stiff workouts this week, and he expects the team to take both contests.

Judging from comparative scores, Rushville has the edge on both Milroy and Connersville. Last Friday Shelbyville defeated Connersville 44 to 30, and Shelbyville has defeated Rushville 32 to 26, or a six point margin, which should give the locals an 8 point advantage over Connersville.

Columbus defeated Milroy, 56 to 23, or 34 points, and Rushville was defeated by Columbus 41 to 20, or 21 points, which gives Rushville a 13-point margin over Milroy.

On Friday night the doors will be open at 6:15, and the curtain raiser between the second teams of the two schools will be played at 7:15. Connersville has been sent 150 tickets, and the west doors will be opened for these ticket holders.

All Rushville people, and those not having tickets, will get in through the east entrance, or the usual place. The admission Friday night was raised to 50 cents, except Rushville school children, who will get in for 25 cents. The extra admission will be applied on glass back stops for the gymnasium, and as Connersville is charging 50 cents, it was believed best to make the charge the same here.

On Saturday night, in the Milroy game, the doors will be opened at 6:15, and as no tickets have been placed on sale in advance, only the east entrance will be used. The Milroy second team will play the locals in the curtain raiser, and the admission for this game will be the same as heretofore.

On Saturday night the 125 pound team, in charge of Coach Stephenson, will journey up to Huntington to meet the 125 pound team of that city.

MORE PEOPLE VISIT PARKS

During Last Year 1,216,490 Tourists See National Parks

Washington, Dec. 13—The tin-can tourist has caused a huge increase in the number of people who are able to view the scenic beauties of the national parks.

In 1915, when the automobile was in its infancy, comparatively only a few more than 300,000 people visited these parks each year, according to the annual report of the National Park service. During the fiscal year, which ended June 30, the total was 1,216,490.

The most popular of the parks is the Rocky Mountain National Reserve which was visited by 219,164 persons. Hot springs, Ark.; Yosemite, Cal., and Yellowstone ranked next in the order named. Only seven persons visited the far away park of Mount McKinley, Alaska.

MOTORISTS TO DRIVE FOR LAW REVISION

Highway Commissioners Are Drafting Bills To Correct Faults Of Standing Laws

ALL STATES INCLUDED

Washington, Dec. 13—A drive for revision of legislation affecting motorists of the country will be made when the legislatures of 43 states convene in 1923, it was announced by the national motorists association here.

Highway commissioners in all these states now are drafting new bills and standing laws.

These drafts are expected to align state laws more closely with federal statutes, take up the question of theft prevention, motor car registration, legislation controlling headlights and taxes and fees.

The questions of making motor vehicles legally common carriers, uniform traffic laws, elimination of grade crossings, highways enforcement legislation and snow removal also will be forced before the legislatures.

It is estimated that the motor owners of the country are paying $344,000,000 to the government. State registration taxes collected are estimated at $125,000,000.

TAYLOR MURDER CASE MAY BE OPENED AGAIN

New Investigation Probable As Result Of Disclosures Following Raid On "Dope Ring"

RAMIFICATIONS IN THE WEST

Los Angeles, Dec. 13.—Investigation of the baffling William Desmond Taylor murder case may be re-opened as the result of disclosures in connection with a raid on headquarters of an alleged nation-wide "dope ring" in New York yesterday, authorities said today.

Officials still attempting to solve the crime are persistent in their belief that Taylor, prominent motion picture director, was slain by agents of a drug ring because he sought to stop them from selling narcotics to prominent film stars.

The New York raid disclosed that the "ring" had ramifications in Hollywood, according to reports from New York police and federal officials here who said they confirm the report claim they have names of eight prominent movie stars served by it.

These stars they asserted purchased narcotics from agents that the raided "concern" maintained throughout the country, the government agents said.

The probe that will probably re-open the Taylor case will be in view of learning whether any of these players were agents as well as users, it was said. Officials will also seek to ascertain whether any of the distributors of narcotics could have any connection with associates that Taylor was trying to cure of the narcotic habit.

Officials said they had not learned the identity of any Hollywood agents.

WOMAN WINS IN POLITICS

LADY ASTOR, M. P., AT THE HEIGHT OF HER SUCCESSFUL CAMPAIGN

Lady Astor, seated between two of her faithful constituents, on the edge of a sidewalk in Plymouth, during the height of her successful campaign for re-election to her seat in the House of Commons.

Plymouth, England., (By Mail to United Press).—Lady Astor, M. P. continues to be the ranking local wonder of the world to her fellow citizens of Plymouth.

During the bitter campaign just ended, which returned the former Virginia, beauty to her seat in the House of Commons, Plymouth could be relied upon to turn out in full force to see her pass along the street in her care.

When she spoke, the woman who broke the barriers for her sex into the staid home of the mother of Parliaments, was as much looked at as listened to.

"Lady Astor" it may be in the Blue Book of England, but to Plymouth, friends and for alike, it's plain "Nancy".

Her millions, popularity reckoned at around twenty-two, add glamor to her. But in spite of the possession of them, she is a true politician and can call thousands of her constituents by name. They like it, these seabred Plymouth people, to have their richest fellow townsmen on an intimate and friendly footing with them.

Throughout polling day in Plymouth crowds lined the streets, obstructing traffic refusing to move, insisting that they be allowed to watch the coming and going of their world famous candidate. Plymouth was warm under the collar, regarding the chances of labor, represented by a large and bellicose minority, and Lady Astor, nominally a conservative, but running more on her record as an individual intensely interested in social reform and betterment of conditions than under the strict yoke of a party label.

Polling booths here reminded one of the same places in the United States when the liquor question was being threshed out on the local option plan. Plain and determined women were there in great numbers. They were working for Lady Astor.

"Now, you'r in again, Lady Astor, what about prohibition? Will you put it over this time?"

"It's not prohibition," she hotly declared, "the increasing activity in all the churches, the growing need for efficiency and economy felt by the commercial and industrial community, the women's vote—all point to a licensing legislation of a drastic character in the near future."

And on that point she is supremely positive. It is not prohibition she is working for, though she may see a glimmering of it in the far future but in the reform of the present system of pubs and their control by the breweries she is confident.

To the cries of "down with the alien!" and similar anti-American phrases coined during her campaign, Lady Astor paid no attention.

AGAINST NEW CONSTITUTION

Illinois Opposes Change In Casic Law By Majority of 700,000

Chicago, Dec. 13.—By a majority of more than 700,000 Illinois voted yesterday against the proposed new state constitution according to practically complete returns today.

The vote tabulated from 5,523 of the state's 5,656 precincts showed for the new constitution 188,969 and against it 910,316.

Every section of the state swamped the proposed draft. Cook county including Chicago, rejected the new constitution by a vote of 35,828 for the amendment to 531,390 against it.

Down-state figures showed a majority of more than two to one against the draft.

100 WAYS To Make Money

By BILLY WINNER

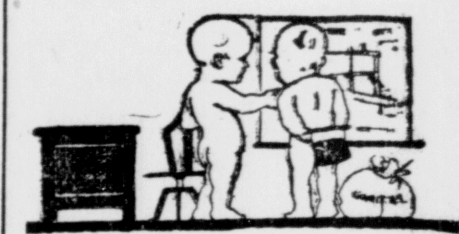

If I Needed Capital—

I F I needed more money for a business undertaking, I would find a person with enough money to back me in my enterprise.

There are many persons, quick to see the merits in a good idea and eager to use their money where it will make profits.

Naturally, I couldn't go out and seek such a person by house to house, or office to office calls. If I tried to do so, it might take me weeks and weeks to find the right man.

But, by using a Daily Republican Want Ad I could tell my story to thousands of people in a few hours. Surely, with such an audience, I would find at least one person interested in my plan. And think of the time and labor and trouble and worry I'd save!

ALL PLAN TO CUT STATE'S EXPENSE

Practically Every Member of New Legislature Believes in Reducing Costs of Government

NINE THINGS PARAMOUNT

Repeal or Change in Primary Law, Gasoline Tax and Educational Measures Included in List

By FELIX F. BRUNER
(Written for United Press)
Indianapolis, Ind., Dec. 13—Cut expenses!

Nearly every member of the Indiana legislature is coming to Indianapolis next month with this in view as the most important thing to come before the assembly.

Every member was asked what they considered the most important problem to be solved.

Seventy percent of those who answered declared the reduction of expenses and of taxation is the most important problem. Expenses must be cut and the burden of taxation removed from the shoulders of the people, they declared. They insisted there must be no new legislation that will make taxes and governmental expenses more of a burden. The one exception to this rule in the minds of many was the soldier bonus.

Second in the list of the most important problems outlined by the legislators themselves are education and the reduction of the number of governmental bureaus and departments. The latter proposal was linked with the proposal to cut expenses in most cases, but other members said they believed there is too much centralization of power in the state government. Those who stressed education as the most important subject failed in most cases to indicate what changes would be advocated.

Other subjects considered by members to be of paramount importance included:

1. The repeal or amendment of the primary election law.
2. The establishment of a tax on gasoline.
3. Abolishment of the public service commission.
4. Placing motor busses under control of the public service commission.
5. Taking public schools out of the hands of township trustees.
6. Amendment of the motor vehicle license laws.
7. Enactment of laws regulating public health.
8. Enactment of highway legislation and
9. Granting of a soldier bonus.

Some of these proposals come up at every session. Others are new. One of the principal contests in the last session was over repeal of the primary law. An effort was also made to abolish the public service commission. Some of the other proposed measures are new and some of them it is indicated will have considerable support. Notable among these is the proposed tax on gasoline. It is understood Governor McCray will recommend this in his message.

A majority of the assembly, indicated that they favor passage of a soldier bonus. This bill is being backed by the Veterans of Foreign Wars and other veterans. Most of those who favored the measure were lazy as to how the money could be raised and many of them said they would be for such a bill only on provision that it go to a referendum.

The Veterans of Foreign Wars estimate their measure would cost the state $11,500,000. A few of the legislators suggested that the state levy a sales tax to pay the bonus and one suggested that wines and beers be made legal and that they be taxed to pay the bonus.

WALLACE REID IN "THE DICTATOR"

SUPPORTED BY LILA LEE

CARAMBA! What a picture! Fights and thrills and gay romance in a Spanish banana republic—with a wild young American and a pretty senorita the center of it all. Theodore Kosloff, Walter Long, Kalla Pasha, and Alan Hale in the fine supporting cast.

Princess--TONIGHT & Thursday

AMUSEMENTS

Wallace Reid At Princess

For genuine thrills, excitement and laughs, there are few pictures seen here this season that will equal "The Dictator," a Paramount picture starring Wallace Reid which is being shown today and Thursday at the Princess. From start to finish the action is rapid and produced on a massive scale, with superb characterization and splendid photography, this picture deserves the success that attended its premiere here.

Wallace Reid is adequately supported by Lila Lee as leading woman, Theodore Kosloff, Alan Hale, Kalla Pasha and other leading players. It is delightful photoplay in every respect, the story dealing with love and revolution in Latin America. James Cruz was the director and he acquitted himself well.

Wm. Russel At Mystic

William Russel will be seen in a story of small town politics and big town romance at the Mystic Theatre today only, when the William Fox production "Mixed Faces," will be the featured picture.

Rene Adoree, the dainty and beautiful little leading woman, who won fame in Paris before coming to this country, plays opposite the star. Others in the cast include Harvey Clark, who has been appearing in pictures since the old Biograph days, Elizabeth Garrison and Eileen Manning.

The theme of the story is based on the remarkable resemblance of Jimmy Callop and Judge Granger, who is running for mayor of a small town on the "reform ticket." The trouble that ensues when the judge's political opponents hire Jimmy to pose as the mayoralty candidate and to address a mass meeting of the latter's constituents, all reform workers, creates entertainment a-plenty, according to all advance reports. Jimmy addresses the meeting and comes out for an open town, which throws the gathering into an uproar.

But what follows that when the judge's finance mistakes the likable Jimmy for her husband-to-be, and

STATES MAY ASK BLANKET RIGHTS

Governors To Effect "Combinations"
For Concerted Action On Economical Problems

HOLD THREE DAY CONFERENCE

To Interpret Working Of Law So To Allow Congress To Pass Legislation To Effect Combinations

White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., Dec. 13.—A movement to obtain blanket rights for states to effect "combinations" and enter into agreements for concerted action on certain industrial and economic problems will be got under way at the fourteenth annual conference of State Governors and governors-elect meeting here for three days starting tomorrow, according to Miles C. Riley, secretary of the conference.

A Federal constitution now prohibits the commonwealth from entering into agreements "except by permission of Congress." Granting of this required permission sometimes delays imperative action by the states for an uncomfortable period, Riley said.

The governors' tentative proposal is to interpret the wording of the law inversely so as to allow Congress to pass legislation allowing states to effect combinations on certain general types of problems, and to get such a law passed by the national legislature.

Waterpower navigation and boundary disputes are the main problems that would be handled under such permission.

Such a campaign would not be subjected to an attempt at immediate adoption, but will be discussed perhaps until next year's conference, in order to crystallize the idea, Riley said.

Specific and immediate conditions that will come under the fire of the executives' discussions, include the Ku Klux Klan crime waves in states, state administration, budget systems, farm loans and the St. Lawrence deep water-way to the Atlantic.

The sessions of the governors will be held in The Greenbrier, a resort hotel here.

Legislators Generally Against Many New Laws

Indianapolis, Ind., Dec. 13—Members of the legislature are generally opposed to the enactment of many laws, they said in answer to a questionnaire. Some said they would introduce no bills. Those who plan to introduce bills, propose legislation that would include the following provisions:

- Repeal of the tax law; Placing the control of motor busses in the hands of the public service commission; Repeal of the primary law; Providing that funds derived from automobile registration be turned over to counties from which they came; A soldier bonus; Restoration to local communities the right to regulate public utilities; A tax on gasoline; Amendment of the primary law; Establishment of a state normal school at Michigan City; Limiting weight of trucks on all state highways; Repeal of the absent voter law; Repeal of the county highway superintendent law; Repeal of the three mile road law; Home rule for taxing units; A closed season for all fish from April to June 15.

Gings High School Boy Third In High School Essay Contest

Gilbert E. Joyce of Gings high school won third prize in the Rush County Farmers association's essay contest for high school pupils on the subject, "Why My Dad Belongs to The Farm Bureau", with the following paper:

My father belongs to the Farmer's Federation in order to accomplish for agriculture, in an organized way what no man can do alone.

He believes that organized team work in a social way will affect all individuals in a way that will lead to progress. Progress gives not only the individual reputation, but the community also.

Father believes every man has a right to express his views and have them analyzed to show effect and progress if there is any.

The Farmer's Federation aims to give every man a chance. It is organized for the Farmer's benefit.

The Farmer's Federation gives you what you pay for. The Federation strives to reach the highest point. With the Farmers' it is sure to.

The Farm Bureau is as necessary to men as their farms, for without putting confidence into the organization you may lose your farm. Many have done such a thing.

The organization is composed of leaders of men. Then, why not follow them under the name of Farmer's Federation as well as under some other name?

The Farmer's Federation is the Renaissance of the Farmers. The Farmer's rights are justified and they hold their place in the government and industries of the world by representatives.

The time will come when man will be proud to say, "my Father belonged to the Farmer's Federation and helped to make the country what it is today."

INDIANA RANKS AMONG LEADERS

State is Fifth Among all States in Number of Tuberculosis Clinics Held Last Year

GOOD COOPERATION CAUSE

To November 1. This Year, There Have Been 207 Clinics Held in 67 Counties

Indianapolis, Ind., Dec. 13—What becomes of the pennies we pay for Christmas Seals every year? Indiana people asking this question just now, while the annual sale of anti-tuberculosis stickers is in progress will be interested to know that the State ranks right at the top nationally in results accomplished with the Seal pennies.

In clinical work, perhaps the most important feature of the Indiana Tuberculosis Association's program, Indiana ranks fifth among all the states, and fourth on the basis of State population. The American Medical Association has just announced the standing of the States. Only New York, Massachusetts, Illinois, and Pennsylvania, all of them states with larger population, held more tuberculosis clinics last year than did Indiana.

Indiana's record has been established by close cooperation between the State Association, the county organizations, and local physicians throughout Indiana. Free examinations are given by the county organizations, the State Association supplying staff physicians who work in cooperation with local doctors volunteering their services.

To November 1, this year, there have been 207 clinics held, in sixty-seven counties. A total of 690 physicians of the State cooperated with the State Association clinician. The results of these clinics, according to M. A. Auerbach, executive secretary of the State Association, should give the people of Indiana food for thought.

There were 3,458 persons examined for symptoms of tuberculosis, and of this number 1,360 were found to have some form of tuberculosis, in some of its various stages. The figure represents approximately 37 percent of the number examined. This high percentage, according to physicians, is a serious thing, but even more serious is the fact that out of the 1,360 cases found, 678 or almost half, were people who had never before been examined for or suspected of having the disease.

"It is only when we find such an appalling condition," said Mr. Auerbach, "that we fully appreciate the gravity of the tuberculosis problem. Each of those 678 persons, mingling in society, were unconsciously spreading the disease. Hundreds of others may be doing the same thing, without their own knowledge. That is why tuberculosis is such a baffling enemy, but it is also the reason why the volunteers pushing the Christmas Seal Sale are working so hard. They know the situation.

"When the public of Indiana realizes what must be done, in the way of additional clinics and other preventive and educational work, it will get behind the anti-tuberculosis work as it has never done before. We are hoping for a bigger Seal Sale this year, in order to extend the scope of our efforts in 1923."

MINERS RAISING FUND FOR AN EMERGENCY

Hope to Collect $2,000,000 by April 1, When Union's Agreement With Operators Ends

WANT PRESENT WAGE SCALE

By A. ROBBINS

Wilkesbarre, Pa., Dec. 13—A special assessment is being gathered from all members of the United Mine Workers and it is hoped that more than $2,000,000 will have been raised by April 1, next, when the union agreement with the operators ends.

Whether war between the miners and operators breaks out again and the country is saddled with another strike is entirely up to the operators, union officials declare.

John L. Lewis, international president of the United Mine Workers, on a recent tour of the anthracite section, while reluctant to discuss the possibility of another strike, said that the union positively would not accept any wage reduction April 1, when the present agreement in the bituminous field expires and that the union would stand by its demand for a continuation of the present wage scale for another two years.

The actual wage conference under the Cleveland agreement will begin January 8, 1923.

Union officials in this section declare that while the anthracite agreement runs until September, the success of the bituminous miners next spring will mean everything to them when they start negotiations for a new agreement next fall.

It is predicted here that the anthracite field will solidly back the bituminous miners in any action they may decide to take.

(By United Press)
Springfield, Dec. 13.—Rumblings of a bitter fight between the "wets" and "drys" over the privilege of naming the speaker of the lower house of the Illinois General Assembly, which convenes here early in January, already are being heard.
The "drys," aided by the state administration forces, elected a "dry" speaker two years ago. The Illinois Anti-Saloon always has denied it had an understanding with the state administration on the speakership and on certain legislation, but the "wets" insist such an agreement was carried out.
At the November elections the "wets" gained considerable strength and say they have enough votes to name a speaker regardless of any combination between the Anti-Saloon League and the State administration.
Less talk is heard among prominent Republicans of the state these days about impeachment of Governor Len Small for alleged misuse of state funds while he was state treasurer. The strength developed by the Democrats in the November elections has convinced the state G. O. P. leaders that another bitter internal quarrel, such as an impeachment certainly would arouse would endanger the Republican state ticket two years hence and might swing Illinois into the Democratic column nationally.

IS NOT A CARRIER OF TOMATO DISEASES

Purdue Makes Investigation That Shows That Bittersweet is Free From Mosaic Pest

WAS FORMERLY CENSORED

Lafayette, Ind., Dec. 13—There is a widespread impression that climbing bittersweet, one of the most popular of winter house decorations, is one of the plants that harbor the tomato disease known as mosaic and should be destroyed. The climbing bittersweet is harmless in this respect, however, according to A. A. Hansen of the Purdue University Agricultural Extension department.
The confusion is due to the fact that the true bittersweet or nightshade, a plant with lobed leaves and purple to lilac tomato like flowers is the weed that carried mosaic. Climbing bittersweet, the harmless plant, is a very harmless species that is highly prized on account of the decorative fruit cluster of red berries. When picked before the shell opens, and placed in a warm room, the outer shells of the fruit open, thereby exposing the red-colored berries which retain their attractiveness throughout the winter. Climbing bittersweet is a winter decorative plant and there is no reason for destroying it since there is no evidence that the species harbors mosaic or any other destructive plant disease.

DO GOOD TO ALL MEN:—

Let us not be weary in well doing; for in due season we shall reap, if we faint not. As we have therefore opportunity, let us do good unto all men, especially unto them who are in the household of faith.—Galatians 6: 9, 10.

Making Christmas Fireproof

The season of the year when the little folks look forward to the lighted Christmas tree and the coming of Santa Claus and good cheer, is fast approaching. Not with the idea of dashing the hopes of the youngsters but with the thought of saving lives, the state fire marshal, as is his custom, comes forward with the usual warning about the dangers that lurk in the Christmas decorations—dangers that may change the most festive season of the year into one of tragedy. The highly inflammable evergreen trees and decorations or the cotton beard of the thinly disguised Santa Claus frequently ignite from a lighted candle, or match and serious results ensue.

To guard against catastrophe to mar the holiday season, this official calls attention to certain safeguards that should be observed. In the first place, he says, the tree should be set up securely so that it will not easily topple over and it should be located several feet away from any heating or lighting fixture. Metal tinsel with flake asbestos and powdered mica make excellent materials for snow effects and will not burn. Cotton and paper, on the other hand, are highly dangerous. The tree should never be illuminated with candles. There is some danger from the widely sold colored electric light assemblies due to insufficient insulation and other causes, but the hazard is small beside that of the lighted candle.

On one recent occasion a woman living in a New York apartment climbed upon a chair to light the candles on a large Christmas tree in order to entertain her little daughter and a neighbor's child. While reaching for a candle at the top of the tree, she accidentally touched her lighted match to a colored paper chain, which blazed up and ignited other decorations. The woman tried to snatch some of the burning papers off the branches, but lost her balance and fell against the tree, pushing it over on the floor. When she regained her feet her dress was on fire and she ran screaming, out into the hall of the apartment house, fanning the flames until she became a living torch. Aid came too late and she succumbed to the flames.

Ornaments should be of metal and not of paper or pyroxylin plastic, which is commonly known as celluloid, pyralin, French ivory and by other trade names. Pyroxylin plastic is extremely inflammable and will ignite at a comparatively low temperature.

Smokers should exercise great care with their matches and smoking materials, and parents should see that all matches are kept in a metal or china containers out of reach of the youngsters, the fire marshal advises.

Toys involving the use of alcohol, gasoline or kerosene should be avoided and low priced electrical playthings should be viewed with suspicion since they often are insecurely wired and flimsily constructed.

TAYLOR MURDER CASE MAY BE OPENED AGAIN

New Investigation Probable As Result Of Disclosures Following Raid On "Dope Ring"

RAMIFICATIONS IN THE WEST

Los Angeles, Dec. 13.—Investigation of the baffling William Desmond Taylor murder case may be re-opened as the result of disclosures in connection with a raid on headquarters of an alleged nation-wide "dope-ring" in New York yesterday, authorities said today.

Officials still attempting to solve the crime are persistent in their belief that Taylor, prominent motion picture director, was slain by agents of a drug ring because he sought to stop them from selling narcotics to prominent film stars.

The New York raid disclosed that the "ring" had ramifications in Hollywood, according to reports from New York police and federal officials here who said they confirm the report claim they have names of eight prominent movie stars served by it. These stars they asserted purchased narcotics from agents that the raided "concern" maintained throughout the country, the government agents said.

The probe that will probably re-open the Taylor case will be in view of learning whether any of these players were agents as well as users, it was said. Officials will also seek to ascertain whether any of the distributors of narcotics could have any connection with associates that Taylor was trying to cure of the narcotic habit.

Officials said they had not learned the identity of any Hollywood agents.

WOMAN WINS IN POLITICS

LADY ASTOR, M. P., AT THE HEIGHT OF HER SUCCESSFUL CAMPAIGN

Lady Astor, seated between two of her faithful constituents, on the edge of a sidewalk in Plymouth, during the height of her successful campaign for re-election to her seat in the House of Commons.

Plymouth, England., (By Mail to United Press).—Lady Astor, M. P. continues to be the ranking local wonder of the world to her fellow citizens of Plymouth.

During the bitter campaign just ended, which returned the former Virginia, beauty to her seat in the House of Commons, Plymouth could be relied upon to turn out in full force to see her pass along the street in her care.

When she spoke, the woman who broke the barriers for her sex into the staid home of the mother of Parliaments, was as much looked at as listened to.

"Lady Astor" it may be in the Blue Book of England, but to Plymouth, friends and for a like, it's plain "Nancy".

Her millions, popularity reckoned at around twenty-two, add glamor to her. But despite of the possession of them, she is a true politician and can call thousands of her constituents by name. They like it, these seabred Plymouth people, to have their richest fellow townsmen on an intimate and friendly footing, with them.

Throughout polling day in Plymouth crowds lined the streets, obstructing traffic refusing to move, insisting that they be allowed to watch the coming and going of their world famous candidate. Plymouth was warm under the collar, regarding the chances of labor, represented by a large and bellicose minority, and Lady Astor, nominally a conservative, but running more on her record as an individual intensely interested in social reform and betterment of conditions than under the strict yoke of a party label.

Polling booths here reminded one of the same places in the United States when the liquor question was being threshed out on the local option plan. Plain and determined women were there in great numbers. They were working for Lady Astor.

"Now, you're in again, Lady Astor, what about prohibition? Will you put it over this time?"

"It's not prohibition," she hotly declared, "the increasing activity in all the churches, the growing need for efficiency and economy felt by the commercial and industrial community, the women's vote—all point to a licensing legislation of a drastic character in the near future."

And on that point she is supremely positive. It is not prohibition she is working for, though she may see a glimmering of it in the far future but in the reform of the present system of pubs and their control by the breweries she is confident.

To the cries of "down with the alien!" and similar anti-American phrases coined during her campaign, Lady Astor paid no attention.

AGAINST NEW CONSTITUTION

Illinois Opposes Change In Casic Law By Majority of 700,000

Chicago, Dec. 13.—By a majority of more than 700,000 Illinois voted yesterday against the proposed new state constitution according to practically complete returns today. The vote tabulated from 5,523 of the state's 5,656 precincts showed for the new constitution 188,969 and against it 910,316.

Every section of the state swamped the proposed draft. Cook county including Chicago, rejected the new constitution by a vote of 35,828 for the amendment to 531,390 against it.

Down-state figures showed a majority of more than two to one against the draft.

100 WAYS To Make Money

By BILLY WINNER

If I Needed Capital—

IF I needed more money for a business undertaking, I would find a person with enough money to back me in my enterprise.

There are many such persons, quick to see the merits in a good idea and eager to use their money where it will make profits.

Naturally, I couldn't go out and seek such a person by house to house, or office to office calls. If I tried to do so, it might take me weeks and weeks to find the right man.

But, by using a Daily Republican Want Ad I could tell my story to thousands of people in a few hours. Surely, with such an audience, I would find at least one person interested in my plan. And think of the time and labor and trouble and worry I'd save!

STATES MAY ASK BLANKET RIGHTS

Governors To Effect "Combinations" For Concerted Action On Economical Problems

HOLD-THREE DAY CONFERENCE

To Interpret Working Of Law So To Allow Congress To Pass Legislation To Effect Combinations

White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., Dec. 13.—A movement to obtain blanket rights for states to effect "combinations" and enter into agreements for concerted action on certain industrial and economic problems will be got under way at the fourteenth annual conference of State Governors and governors-elect meeting here for three days starting tomorrow, according to Miles C. Riley, secretary of the conference.

A Federal constitution now prohibits the commonwealth from entering into agreements "except by permission of Congress." Granting of this required permission sometimes delays imperative action by the states for an uncomfortable period, Riley said.

The governors' tentative proposal is to interpret the wording of the law inversely so as to allow Congress to pass legislation allowing states to effect combinations on certain general types of problems, and to get such a law passed by the national legislature.

Waterpower navigation and boundary disputes are the main problems that would be handled under such permission.

Such a campaign would not be subjected to an attempt at immediate adoption, but will be discussed perhaps until next year's conference, in order to crystallize the idea, Riley said.

Specific and immediate conditions that will come under the fire of the executives' discussions, include the Ku Klux Klan crime waves in states, state administration, budget systems, farm loans and the St. Lawrence deep water-way to the Atlantic.

The sessions of the governors will be held in The Greenbrier, a resort hotel here.

Legislators Generally Against Many New Laws

Indianapolis, Ind., Dec. 13.—Members of the legislature are generally opposed to the enactment of many laws, they said in answer to a questionnaire. Some said they would introduce no bills. Those who plan to introduce bills, propose legislation that would include the following provisions:

Repeal of the tax law; Placing the control of motor busses in the hands of the public service commission; Repeal of the primary law; Providing that funds derived from automobile registration be turned over to counties from which they came; A soldier bonus; Restoration to local communities the right to regulate public utilities; A tax on gasoline; Amendment of the primary law; Establishment of a state normal school at Michigan City; Limiting weight of trucks on all state highways; Repeal of the absent voter law; Repeal of the county highway superintendent law; Repeal of the three mile road law; Home rule for taxing units; A closed season for all fish from April to June 15.

Gings High School Boy Third In High School Essay Contest

Gilbert E. Joyce of Gings high school won third prize in the Rush County Farmers association's essay contest for high school pupils on the subject, "Why My Dad Belongs to The Farm Bureau", with the following paper:

My father belongs to the Farmer's Federation in order to accomplish for agriculture, in an organized way what no man can do alone.

He believes that organized team work in a social way will affect all individuals in a way that will lead to progress. Progress gives not only the individual reputation, but the community also.

Father believes every man has a right to express his views and have them analyzed to show effect and progress if there is any.

The Farmer's Federation aims to give every man a chance. It is organized for the Farmer's benefit.

The Farmer's Federation gives you what you pay for. The Federation strives to reach the highest point. With the Farmers' it is sure to.

The Farm Bureau is as necessary to men as their farms, for without putting confidence into the organization you may lose your farm. Many have done such a thing.

The organization is composed of leaders of men. Then, why not follow them under the name of Farmer's Federation as well as under some other name?

The Farmer's Federation is the Renaissance of the Farmers. The Farmer's rights are justified and they hold their place in the government and industries of the world by representatives.

The time will come when man will be proud to say, "my Father belonged to the Farmer's Federation and helped to make the country what it is today."
